From 25th May 2018 the GDPR comes into effect and we need to inform you of how we are using and storing your data.

Bramshaw Heating and Plumbing Ltd is fully committed to ensuring the security and protection of the personal data we hold.

We follow the general principles of the GDPR when we collect and process your data.

What Does This Mean?

- We hold your personal data securely and only process it on a contractual basis.
- We will not share your information with any third parties except our approved associated companies where this is needed. i.e. any warranties or service information relating to products or services carried out by us.
- You can request changes, removal or access to the personal data we hold on our records for you at any time by contacting us on (01392) 277199 or by emailing us at info@bramshawheating.com.
- If you decide to request removal of your data this may render any warranty or guarantee very difficult to maintain.
